Beacon Of Integrity And National Values

Kadapa, Andhra Pradesh, India, 07.12.2024, 02:00 Time

USPA NEWS - On the occasion of Dr. B R Ambedkar's 68th death anniversary, the Mahajana Rajyam Party (MRP) and the Constitutional Rights Protection Committee (CRPC) called for a renewed commitment to Ambedkar's ideals, emphasizing his unparalleled contributions to the nation's welfare and the need for leaders to adopt his values for India's growth and global leadership.

Ambedkar's Legacy: A Visionary Beyond Compare

Sangati Manohar, Founder National President of the MRP and National Coordinator of the CRPC, hailed Ambedkar as a guiding force for India's progress. "Ambedkar's sacrifices and struggles cannot be described or valued. His foresight, vision, and honesty remain unmatched," he said, underscoring Ambedkar's unwavering commitment to the country's welfare.

Highlighting Ambedkar's remarkable intellect, Manohar stated, "Ambedkar's way of thinking is the refuge of this country. If India wants to compete globally, it must travel on his path."

A Beacon Of Integrity And National Values

The speakers collectively acknowledged Ambedkar's extraordinary patriotism, nationalism, and commitment to constitutional governance. "His honesty, sincerity, and dedication towards the nation are unparalleled," Manohar emphasized. "Rulers must adopt policies that are transparent, accountable, and focused on the welfare of the people without deviating from constitutional principles," he added.

Promoting Ambedkar's Ideals Through Education And Awareness

Manohar called for widespread dissemination of Ambedkar's writings and speeches. "Ambedkar's thoughts and ideas remain relevant and invaluable for the world. By promoting his teachings, we can shape India into a global leader," he remarked.

The leaders also stressed the need to harness advancements in science and technology for the nation's growth, aligning with Ambedkar's vision of progress.

Tributes From Prominent Leaders And Organizations

Leaders from various parties and associations paid floral tributes to Ambedkar, reiterating their commitment to his ideals. Sheikh Amin Peeran, High Court advocate and CRPC member, called for fostering equality and protecting constitutional rights. National Craftsmen United Forum President Avvaru Mallikarjuna and SC/ST Human Rights Welfare Forum leader JV Ramana emphasized Ambedkar's role in championing social justice.

Kaipu Ramanjaneyulu, State President of Dalit Mitra Sangham, Lok Satta leader Devara Srikrishna added, "Ambedkar sought the welfare, progress, and happiness of humanity. His vision is critical to eradicating caste-based inequalities and ensuring India's inclusive growth."

A Call To Action

Manohar concluded with a powerful message: "Let us take forward the thinking of Babasaheb Ambedkar, the architect of the Indian Constitution. Promoting his teachings and following his path is the greatest tribute we can pay to this towering intellectual."

The event, held under the auspices of the MRP, saw participation from several prominent leaders, including Sheikh Humera, Sawant Chandrakala Bai, Sheikh Yasmeen, Vijayaramaraju, and others, who collectively vowed to uphold Ambedkar's ideals for a more equitable and progressive India.
